Beware of Fake Fraud Calls

Ever receive a call claiming suspicious activity on your credit or debit card? It's nerve-wracking, but don't panic! Scammers often use this tactic to steal your personal information. Here's a simple trick to help you identify a fake call:

Google the Phone Number!

Before you give out any details, take a moment to search the phone number online. A quick Google search can reveal a ton of information. You might find:

- User Reviews: See if others have reported the number as a scam, helping you confirm your suspicions.
- Website Warnings: Scam websites often list phone numbers used in their cons.

Remember, we will never ask you for personal information over the phone. If you're concerned about fraudulent activity, hang up and contact us directly using the phone number on our official website or the back of your card. By being cautious and using this simple Google trick, you can protect yourself from falling victim to credit card scams!
